The following worksheet will help you plan for specific, measurable miracles in your Career, personal/professional Relationships & Finances.

In these stressful times we don't design miracles to fix our: Finances, Relationships or Career.

We design miracle statements to:

- Feel good
- Filter out distractions
- Notice opportunities & synchronicities
- Have confidence to choose these blessings

"Ruth, what we accomplished in 3 months could take people their whole lives."

Write Your Miracle

*It's a fit when you read your Miracle Headline out loud and your whole body tingles with delight and appreciation.

(In that moment you are connecting with your ideal energy/feeling of your miracle.)

When that predesigned moment in your Miracle Headline occurs people get that déjà vu feeling and smile knowing they are at the right place at the right time.

Write Your Miracle

- 1) In 3rd person
- 2) Past tense as if it was already a Success
Headline you read about in the news
- 3) State ideal/best case scenario result
- 4) Leave out proper nouns of the folks involved in the story
- 5) Use positive descriptions and emotions.

Why this works?

Unlike affirmations that are present tense, this bypasses or tricks the inner critic from thinking, “That’s not true or no me yet,”

The prayer element is feeling good when you read the Miracle Headline out loud.

1) Read and write/script miracles often for best results.

2) Carry on your purse or wallet and read out loud for a quick pick me up.

3) Create a miracle script before an important: date, meeting, interview, family gathering, trip, sales call or to create a Career, Financial and Relationship miracle.
